Jeremy utilises the Oneness Blessing and his mind training (from Tibetan Buddhism and other wisdom schools) to assist this process.

Master Ameru

has worked closely with Mallku for a number of years. A native Andean, Ameru has earned the title Master through his studies and adeptship of his native tradition and his skill in the Eastern Sacred Arts of martial arts and Tai Chi. Master Ameru is full of vitality and master of the inner path of the heart as well as outer discipline.

Touching the Heart Munay Ki Retreat

5 - 9 September 2009

This special retreat with Mallku, senior shaman Master Ameru and indigenous shamans from remote villages will be an introduction to Andeans and the Andean path. The shamans will assist us in the flowering of our heart and the opening to the pure and transcendental consciousness of the Andes. We will also be receiving the 9 sacred initiation rites of the Munay Ki, (literally I love you), the nine great rites of enlightenment and universal human rites of passage as brought through by the Q'ero shaman. Until recently these initiations were only given to the high wisdom keepers of the Andes, now we are blessed to have this opportunity to receive them. Wisdom keeper Don Francisco Chura brought through the last two rites and we will receive these powerful and transformative energetic transmissions from his son Ricardo Chura Apaza. The retreat will be held in the Sacred Valley of the Inkas. It is residential and breakfast, lunch, accommodation and airport transfers are included in the price.

Andean Master Path

8 - 26 September 2009

This is a journey where we step forward in mastery in 2009, the year of becoming. We will be journeying to the heart of the Andes at an auspicious time. Inkan prophecies speak of the people who will travel to the Andes in 2009 to awaken mastery within, including couples in sacred relationship. On our journey to mastery we will visit Machu Picchu and many of the sacred sites in the Sacred Valley of the Inkas before reaching Lake Titikaka, the feminine pole of the planet where we will imbibe the profound and healing feminine essence of the lake for the Spring equinox.
