

Mary and Joseph Energy Line
&
Awakening the Goddess at Aura-Soma
England, September 2010

Despite the many perceived faults of England on the world, the spiritual energies that emanate from this land have encircled the globe. The main energy or serpent line through England runs from the tip of Cornwall in the South West to the northern tip of East Anglia in the East of England with many powerful sacred sites marking points along it like vertebrae upon the spiritual spine of England. Our tour will commence by visiting the energetic hub of England of major significance for Europe and the world, the area around Glastonbury, the ancient civilisation of Avalon and the great Druidic standing stones of Stonehenge.

Mike Booth of Aura-Soma Products Limited (Aura-Soma) has invited me to gather a group to take part in a wonderful ceremony on Aura-Soma land in the North East of England. Many prophecies have spoken of the times when the Goddess will awaken within the Earth. Quite literally the spirit of Mother Earth will become enriched and awaken from the dense sleep of the kali yuga (age of regression). We are living in those times and Mike Booth (I call the “wise man of Europe” or the New King of Albion) is playing a core role in this global awakening. With his Geomancy friends and serendipity of spirit, a Goddess was discovered lying dormant in the Aura-Soma land, much like Sleeping Beauty, waiting to be awoken to the New or Golden Age. With conscious intention and much fortitude Mike and his team have been applying love and focused intention to bring the energy of this Goddess to the fore. We will draw energy from the wonderful sites we will visit before joining Mike and his congregation of spiritual aspirants from around the globe who together form the mind and body of Prince Charming for the awakening kiss over the Autumn Equinox (September) 2010.
